Amindon Patentability Assessment and Prior Art Search for The Chemical Industry

We offer patent search services to assist clients in understanding the patent landscape related to their chemical industry inventions.

Our team of expert patent analysts utilizes advanced search tools and databases to ensure clients receive precise and up-to-date information.

Patentability Assessment and Prior Art Search for The Chemical Industry

Patentability search

Assessing whether an invention is novel and non-obvious, determining its eligibility for a patent

Freedom to operate search

Identifying any existing patents that a product or service might infringe upon.

Patent landscape analysis

Exploring patents within a specific technology or industry, highlighting competitors and innovation opportunities

Invalidity search

Searching for prior art that could potentially invalidate an existing patent.

Invention disclosure review

Reviewing the invention disclosure to identify key elements and ensure all required information is included in the patent application.

State of Art search

State of Art search is executed on a wider scale so that relevant references can be captured in the field.
